* Medicaid will only pay if the child is eligible for Medicaid and the services are deemed “medically necessary.” Medicaid is always the “payor last resort”. If the parents have other insurance, Medicaid will cost shift to the insurance as primary payor.

If School District is involved in IEP and places child, school district is responsible for payment; placement costs are reimbursed after the fiscal year.

¹ Medicaid per diem payments for PRTF services are considered “all inclusive” with the exception of the child’s education/tuition. Meaning, the facility incurs and pays all room and board and medical/counseling costs.

² Per Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), 34 CFR 300.148, Parentally placed private school children: if parent places (unilateral decision by parent), parent is responsible for payment. This applies to children with disabilities who have been identified according to IDEA and receiving special education and related services.

Homebound educational services payment responsibility of school district when hospitalized through agreement between district and facility
