Self-advocacy for listening and technological needs for students with hearing loss is fundamental for their success in the classroom and beyond. The purpose of this LIFE-R tool is to help the teacher to identify when the student with hearing loss uses self-advocacy strategies in the classroom. Self-advocacy may also be a goal/objective on the student's IEP, as indicated below by the student's teacher of the deaf/hard of hearing, educational audiologist or other specialist.

Student's IEP goals related to self-advocacy:	Most opportunities	Often	Sometimes	Rarely	NA/Not observed
1. The student asks for repetition immediately during lecture or meets with you at a later time for clarification of directions, student discussion, lecture material, etc.	5	4	3	2	1
2. The student utilizes strategic seating (changes seats depending on the activity to ensure he has the best acoustic and visual access to information) during classroom instruction.	5	4	3	2	1
3. The student uses the "signal system" that you and s/he developed to let you know if s/he does not understand, needs noise reduction (close door/windows), or to remind you of another hearing accommodation (i.e., turn the FM on; repeat information).	5	4	3	2	1
4. The student takes responsibility for his/her personal hearing aid/CI (wears every day, changes batteries when needed, is directly involved in daily monitoring, etc.).	5	4	3	2	1
5. Ease of following directions provided to large group (hesitation before beginning work):	5	4	3	2	1
6. The student self-advocates for his/her listening needs in relation to media and announcements. This may include asking for closed captioning, asking for a script of the announcements, asking for a summary of information from an assembly or lecture.	5	4	3	2	1
7. During cooperative learning groups, the student positions himself for good auditory/visual access, asks his/her peers for repetition, asks group to sit in a circle, asks to move to a less noisy place in the classroom, etc.	5	4	3	2	1
8. When asked about the student's hearing loss needs and accommodations relative to an activity, the student is able to describe two or more communication or technology accommodations (i.e., ask: When there is noise, what will help you?).	5	4	3	2	1
Comments on this student's ability to advocate for his/her own listening and learning needs:	Total of 40 possible
